Both teams must be regarded as serias contenders for the championship, ad this was emphasized at Washingn Park vesterday afternoon, when the put the finishing touches on their aining before a gathering of several indiced fans.

Tip Tops Look Ready.

The Tops Look Ready.

The Tip Tops looked in fine condition. Lee Magee, the youngest manager in the game, asserted that he was especially gratified over the showing of his pitchers. "Doc" Lafitte, the no-hilmo-run hero of last season; Tom Seaton, former star of the Phillies; Jim Bluejacket, the Indian, and Joe Fineran are the most advanced. Seaton, who was ready to go the route more than ten days ago, probably will be Magee's choice for the mound to-day. Seaton hurled them over in fine style yesterday. In the Buffalo camp the impression was strong that Hugh Bedient, the former Red Sox pitcher, who once neld up the Giants in their quest for a world's championship, will pitch for the Buffalo Blues, as Schlafly has dubbed his club. Schlafly asserted, however, what he had not yet decided-whether Bedient, Al Schulz, the erstwhile Yan-Yee southpaw, or Russ Ford, another Tank renegade, would mount the mound.

The outlook is that Cooper will remain at first, as he has shown marked ability to handle everything that comes the last year and needs careful han-

We're Out for a Fight Says Manager of Tip Tops

Lee Magee, the new manager of the Brooklyn Feds, was optimistic yesterday, on the eve of a new pennant race.

In talking of the Tip Tops he said: "If hustling, hard work and ambition among the players make a winning team, the Brooklyn fans will see one at Washington Park this cuarters here to-day were that fair weather and big crowds were expected at the openings at Chicago, where St. Louis plays; at Kansas City, whose opponent will be Pittsburgh; at Baltimore, where the team that won the pennant for Indianapolis will represent Newark, and at Brooklyn, where Buffalo will be met.

Most of the Federal League teams, their managers maintain, have improved greatly over last year. St. Louis, especially, President Gilmore says, has increased in strength, Fielder Jones, the manager, having gathered a squad of veterans, including Charley Deal, who aided the Boston Braves to win the world's championship. A strong infield is the chief reliance of the Pittsburgh team, but reports from Kansas City are not optimistic.

The Newark club's loss of Benny Kauff, the league's champion batter, was recorded at headquarters as Brooklyn's gain, and the addition of Jack Dalton, one of the strong hitters last year, should help the oftensive strength of Buffalo.
